

Andria Louise
Martinez-Cardenas
Katz & Klein, Inc
EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT
June 2008

Andria was born September 1, 1984 in Sacramento where she was raised and has lived her whole life and doesn't have any plans involving moving away anytime soon.

Andria has worked at Katz and Klein for nine months as the primary Data Entry person. Andria likes her job because it allows her to learn more about optics. Her co-workers make Katz a fun environment to work in while also working in a field that helps enhance the lives of others.

When asked about things outside of work you'll find Andria is quite the fan of Foil Wrapped Chicken at Wayne's Wok, Corona with salt and lime, and Hot Cheeto's for breakfast. Her favorite color is Orange because "that's what it was when I was a little kid". She also enjoys snowboarding, riding dirt bikes, playing baseball, working out (including a kickboxing class), playing Atari 2600, and claims to be unbeatable at "hot hands".

Andria would like to go skydiving someday and her dream vacation would either be traveling to London, or Los Angeles to spend a couple thousand on clothes. Eventually Andria would like to go back to school to become a police dispatcher. Her main goals are to be successful in life and have a farm with plenty of animals. She's got a head start on the farm with her rabbit, a dog, a cat, and five chickens.

Andria is a bright and cheerful member of the Katz & Klein family. She works very hard every day and is an asset to us all.
